Global Security Challenges

What Is Achievable To Make Us Safe?

Hon Chris Inglis, National Cyber Director & Advisor To The President Of The United States
John Plender, British Writer, Broadcaster & Journalist At The Financial Times
Maya Bundt, Cyber Practice Leader At Swiss Re
Professor Michael Mainelli, Executive Chairman Of Z/Yen Group Limited

15:00 Wednesday, 27 April 2022

Programme

15:00   Introduction & Welcome

15:05   Opening Remarks:

         - Hon Chris Inglis

         - John Plender

         - Maya Bundt

15:20   Panel Discussion

15:45   Q&A

16:00   Close

In a digital world, how can we assure resilience?

Hon Chris Inglis
National Cyber Director
White House

Do our economic structures militate against long-term resilience? What can we do about it?

John Plender
Journalist
Financial Times

How can we respond to catastrophic risk?

Maya Bundt
Cyber Practice Leader
Swiss Re

Panel Discussion

In a digital world, how can we assure resilience?

What is the point of national digital borders in establishing safety? Can they ever work?

Where are the technological silver bullets in cyber, if any?

Why is it hard to engage management in cyber defence?

Where are the cyber black elephants?

Do our economic structures militate against long-term resilience? What can we do about it?

What is short-termism in the markets? Is it any different now than X years ago?

Are over active markets and short-termism because we have too much news or information?

How can we respond to catastrophic risk?

Is the scale beyond the financial industry? (look at UK insurers and business interruption for example, late and useless without government, and hardly a big help anyway)

What can/should we do about the real-but-exotics, Carrington Event (massive solar flare), asteroid disaster, runaway genetics,…

www.zyen.com

www.cityforum.co.uk